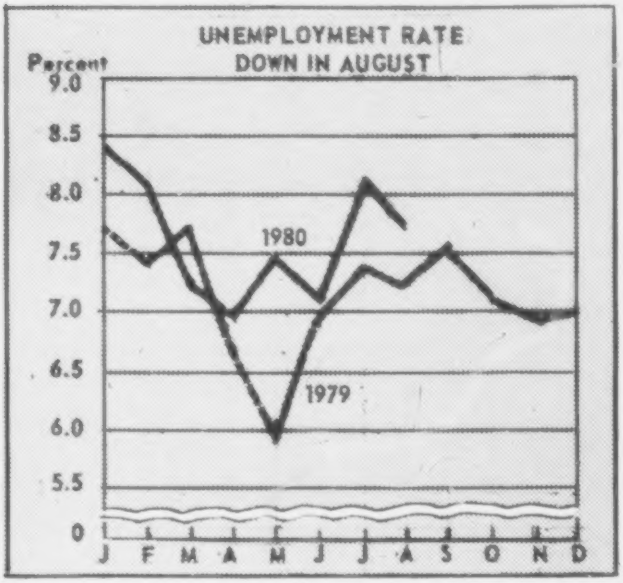
MONTH IN REVIEW
August 1980

Civilian Labor Force

The number of employed New York State residents declined 64,000 from July 1980 to 7,506,000 in August 1980. Compared with August 1979, employment was lower by 10,000.

Total unemployment in the State in August 1980 was 625,000, a drop of 44,000 from a month ago, but an increase of 31,000 from a year ago.

The unemployment rate in the State was 7.7 percent in August 1980, a decrease of 0.4 of a percentage point from July. In August 1979, the State recorded a jobless rate of 7.3 percent.



Nonfarm Employment

Nonagricultural wage and salary employment (which excludes agricultural workers, the self-employed, unpaid family workers and domestic workers in private households) advanced 13,600 over the month to 7,197,400 in August 1980, with all of the gain in the manufacturing sector. The nonfarm job upturn was slightly less than half of the average July-August advance over the last 8 years.

Manufacturing employment in August was up 18,800 from July with the nondurable-goods segment accounting for 17,500 or 93 percent of the job increase. However, the factory increase was approximately 12,000 less than the average July-August advance over the last 8 years. Continued retrenchment reduced the number of workers returning in August from unpaid vacations taken in July. The majority of nondurable-goods industries showed higher job levels in August, with the largest gains posted by the food (+4,000), apparel (+3,900), miscellaneous manufacturing (+3,200), and leather (+2,700) industries. The bulk of the increase in food employment occurred in the canning industry where seasonal influences prompted the higher job levels. Nearly all components of the apparel industry showed employment advances in August, primarily because of persons returning to work following vacation plant closings in July. Recalls because of the reopening of plants temporarily shut down, and hiring to meet new orders and contracts, accounted for the rise in miscellaneous manufacturing jobs. Most of the gain in leather employment resulted from workers returning to their jobs from unpaid vacations. While employment rose in most soft-goods industries, there was a notable drop in petroleum jobs (-800) because of an oil firm moving out of State.

Durable-goods payrolls experienced a moderate increase in August (+1,300). The over-the-month gain was primarily a reflection of the settlement of labor-management disputes among the various hard-goods industries. The largest hard-goods advances occurred in the electrical machinery (+900), furniture (+700), and primary metals (+700) industries. Increased product demand, coupled with the return to work of strikers in the electric wiring and lighting industry, accounted for the upturn in electrical machinery jobs. Persons returning to their jobs from unpaid furloughs increased the job level in the furniture industry. All of the gain in primary metals jobs was the result of the settlement of a strike against a nonferrous metals plant.

Over-the-month losses in the stone, clay, glass and concrete (-1,100) and fabricated metals (-500) industries tempered the hard-goods job increase. Cutbacks following the completion of contracts, coupled with several temporary plant shutdowns, caused the decline in stone, clay, glass and concrete jobs. A decrease in demand for products in the metal forging and stamping category was the reason for the lower job levels in the fabricated metals industry.

The level of nonmanufacturing jobs fell 5,200 in August 1980, in contrast to July-August increases experienced over the past 3 years. Layoffs in government and the spread of the recession into other portions of the nonfactory sector, especially construction, were responsible for the greater than seasonal retrenchment. The trade category registered the largest decline among the nonmanufacturing divisions, losing 4,800 jobs from July. Seasonal reductions combined with recessionary contractions accounted for the trade decline. Government employment declined by 3,500 jobs in August, primarily as a result of continued trimming of temporary staff hired to conduct the 1980 Census. Finance, insurance and real estate jobs declined 500 over the month because of seasonal cutbacks in the real estate segment. The services group rose by 1,700 jobs in August because of seasonal hiring in the boarding house, trailer parks, and commercial sports segments, and increased activity in the business services division. The construction industry experienced a 1,600 rise in jobs from July. This increase was well below the normal seasonal expansion for August and would have been even less, except for the return to work of striking plumbers. Transportation and public utilities added 300 jobs in August, with most of the growth occurring in the communications segment.

Since August 1979, the State's nonfarm job level has fallen 37,700, mainly because of a 50,300 over-the-year loss in manufacturing jobs. Other industry divisions showing substantial job losses from a year ago were the construction industry, down 25,700, and trade, down 9,900. Year-to-year gains in services (+41,200) and finance, insurance and real estate (+10,600) jobs tempered these losses.

EXPLANATION OF DATA

EMPLOYED AND UNEMPLOYED

Employed and Unemployed. Employment and unemployment estimates prepared by the New York State Department of Labor are developed under a cooperative Federal-State program administered by the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) of the U.S. Department of Labor. The Current Population Survey (CPS)--the official survey instrument for measuring labor force attachment in the United States--is a monthly survey of about 56,000 households conducted throughout the nation by trained interviewers. Employment and unemployment data for New York State and New York City are based directly on responses of households within the State and City which are represented in the CPS sample.

The size of the CPS sample is not sufficient to provide reliable estimates for labor areas in the "Balance of State" (State less New York City). In these areas, a series of factors are applied to administrative statistics from State unemployment insurance (UI) operations and to payroll statistics from establishment surveys to provide data on resident employment and unemployment. Data for these labor areas are adjusted so they add to "Balance of State" totals.

These revised procedures, which were put into effect in January 1978, are designed to make the estimates more comparable from state to state and to incorporate more current data in the estimating process.

Employed. Employed persons are all those who during the week including the 12th of the month, (a) did any work at all as paid employees or in their own business or profession, or farm or who worked 15 hours or more as unpaid workers in an enterprise operated by a member of the family, or (b) did not work but who had jobs or businesses from which they were temporarily absent because of illness, bad weather, vacation, labor-management dispute, or personal reasons, whether or not they were paid by their employers for the time off, and whether or not they were seeking other jobs. Each employed person is counted only once.

Unemployed. Unemployed persons are all those persons who did not work during the week including the 12th of the month, who made specific efforts to find a job within the past 4 weeks, and who were available for work during the week except for temporary illness. Also included as unemployed are those who did not work at all, were available for work, and (a) were waiting to be called back to a job from which they had been laid off, or (b) were waiting to report to a new wage or salary job within 30 days.

Rate of Unemployment. The rate is the total number of unemployed persons expressed as a percentage of the employed and unemployed, i.e., as a percentage of the civilian labor force.

NONAGRICULTURAL EMPLOYMENT, HOURS AND EARNINGS

Benchmark. Represents a comprehensive count of employment for the various nonagricultural industries as of the first quarter of each year. The primary source of benchmark information is employment data received from establishments covered by the New York State Unemployment Insurance Law. Benchmark data for the remainder are obtained from the records of other private and governmental agencies. Employment estimates for the latest benchmark year and for the previous year are normally subject to revision annually. Current estimates are based on the March 1979 benchmark level for each industry.

Hours and earnings data are analyzed each year to maintain continuity of series.

Earnings, Average. For manufacturing, the averages cover production and related workers only. For the remaining industries, averages cover all nonsupervisory employees and working supervisors unless otherwise specified.

--Earnings, Average Hourly. Represents payrolls divided by total number of hours worked or paid for (including paid holiday, vacation, and sick leave hours) during period reported. Total payroll includes both straight-time and premium pay. The averages are influenced by the amount of premium pay, as well as by changes in composition of labor force, changes in wage rates, upgrading of employees, etc., and consequently should not be interpreted as wage rates.

--Earnings, Average Weekly. Derived by multiplying average weekly hours by average hourly earnings. Includes premium wages for overtime and nightshift work and payments made on piecework or incentive basis. The averages are affected by changes in length of workweek, part-time work, stoppages for varying causes, labor turnover, and absenteeism.

Employment, Nonfarm. Estimates include all nonfarm wage and salary workers who received pay for any part of the pay period including the 12th of the month. Persons on paid sick leave, paid holiday or paid vacation are included, but those on leave without pay for the entire payroll period are excluded. Persons on the payroll of more than one establishment during the period are counted each time reported. Self-employed persons, unpaid family workers, and domestics are excluded.

Historical Continuity. Historical continuity of statistics of average hours and earnings of manufacturing production workers has been interrupted for a number of industry groups because of changes in the composition of reporting samples or changes in the relative weight on individual industries in group totals. The starting month of a revised series is identified in a footnote in the issue in which the revision is introduced. Some series have been discontinued pending improvement in the reporting samples.

Hours, Average Weekly. See Earnings, Average for description of workers covered. The averages represent total number of hours worked (including overtime) or paid for (including paid holiday, vacation, and sick leave hours) during week divided by number of employees. The averages are affected by amount of labor turnover during week, changes in amount of overtime hours, and by changes in ratio of full-time or part-time employment.

--Hours, Average Weekly Overtime. Represents total number of overtime hours worked by production workers during the week divided by total number of production workers. Overtime hours include those for which premiums were paid because those hours were in excess of the number of hours of either the straight-time workday or the workweek. Hours worked on Saturday, Sunday or holidays are included only if premium wage rates were paid.

Nonagricultural Establishments. All employing units except commercial and noncommercial farms, international government and private households.

Production Workers. Includes working foremen and all nonsupervisory workers (including leadmen and trainees) engaged in fabricating, processing, assembling, inspection, receiving, storage, handling, packing, warehousing, shipping, maintenance, repair, janitorial and watchman services, product development, auxiliary production for plant's own use (e.g., power plant), and in record-keeping and other services closely associated with the above production operations. Excludes supervisory employees (above the working foremen level) and their clerical staffs, routemen, salesmen and force-account construction workers.

Reference Week of the Month. Employment, payroll, hours, and earnings data are based on reports from firms covering a pay period, usually the week, including the 12th of the month.

LABOR-TURNOVER RATES

Refers to the gross movement of wage and salary workers into and out of employment status with respect to individual firms during a calendar month. This movement is subdivided into various types, and each type is expressed as a rate per 100 employees on the payroll. Rates are shown for the types of turnover defined below.

--Accessions, Total. All permanent and temporary additions to the employment roll, whether of new or former employees, or of persons transferred in from another establishment of the same company.

---New hires. Permanent and temporary additions to the employment roll of persons who have not been specifically recalled by the employer or transferred in from another establishment of the same company.

----Recalls. Permanent or temporary additions to the employment roll of persons specifically recalled to a job in the same establishment of the company following a period of layoff lasting more than 7 consecutive days. Employees recalled from a layoff in a different establishment of the company are to be classified as transfers.

--Separations, Total. Terminations of employment that resulted from: quits, discharges, layoffs, transfers out to another establishment of the same company, military duty and miscellaneous causes.

----Quits. Terminations of employment initiated by the employee for any reason except to retire, to transfer to another establishment of the same firm or to serve in the Armed Forces.

----Layoffs. Suspensions from pay status (which last or are expected to last more than 7 consecutive calendar days) initiated by management without prejudice to the worker. They result from such reasons as lack of orders, model changeovers, termination of seasonal or temporary employment, inventory-taking or introduction of labor-saving devices.

----Other, including transfers. Includes transfers of employees to another establishment of the same company, discharges, and terminations of employment for retirement, death, permanent disability, failure to meet physical standards, or for military duty lasting or expected to last 30 calendar days.

INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION

Data are classified in accordance with the 1972 edition of the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual prepared by the Office of Statistical Standards, Bureau of the Budget, Executive Office of the President. Coverage of the classification Services and miscellaneous varies geographically. For New York State and New York City this classification includes: the services industry division; forestry, fisheries and selected services relating to agriculture; and nonclassifiable establishments. For other areas this classification also includes the mining industry division. For space requirements on the statistical tables, the formal SIC title for some of the industry groups have been replaced by the short SIC title as contained in Appendix B of the 1972 edition of the SIC Manual - List of short SIC Titles. SIC titles used for groupings of two or more two-digit manufacturing industries reflect, to the extent possible, the respective components.

MAJOR LABOR AREA

A major labor area is a defined geographical section of New York State in which there is a major concentration of employment and economic activity. For purposes of labor statistics, a labor area includes a whole county or counties even though the economic activity may be centered in a segment of the whole. The composition of the major labor areas (which differ from the administrative jurisdictions of the unemployment insurance and employment service program) is given below.

--Albany-Schenectady-Troy Area.* Albany, Montgomery, Rensselaer, Saratoga and Schenectady counties.
--Binghamton Area.* Broome and Tioga counties, New York, and Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania.
--Buffalo Area.* Erie and Niagara counties.
--Elmira Area.* Chemung county.
-- Monroe Area. Monroe county.
--Nassau-Suffolk Area.* Nassau and Suffolk counties.
-- New York City. Bronx, Kings, New York, Queens and Richmond counties. 1/
-- New York City Area. Bronx, Kings, New York, Queens, Richmond, Putnam, Rockland and Westchester counties.
-- New York Combined Area. Bronx, Kings, Nassau, New York, Queens, Richmond, Putnam, Rockland, Suffolk and Westchester counties. 2/
--Poughkeepsie Area.* Dutchess county.
--Rochester Area.* Livingston, Monroe, Ontario, Orleans and Wayne counties.
-- Rockland Area. Rockland County.
--Syracuse Area.* Madison, Onondaga and Oswego counties.
--Utica-Rome Area.* Herkimer and Oneida counties.

*Geographical boundaries of labor area are identical with boundaries of the Standard Metropolitan Statististical Area (SMSA) established by the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

1/ Subarea of New York City Area.
2/ Combination of New York City Area and Nassau-Suffolk Area.

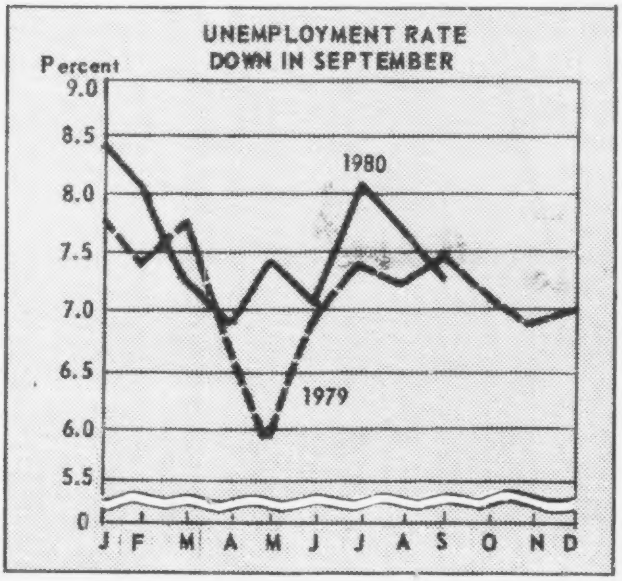
MONTH IN REVIEW
September 1980

Civilian Labor Force

Between August and September 1980, both employment and unemployment declined in New York State as students who entered the labor force for summer employment returned to school. Resident employment declined 239,000 from August to 7,267,000 in September. The September 1980 employment level was 64,000 less than a year ago.

Total unemployment in the State in September 1980 was 569,000, a drop of 56,000 over the month and a reduction of 24,000 from a year ago.

The decrease in unemployment caused the jobless rate in the State to fall 0.4 of a percentage point from August 1980 to 7.3 percent in September 1980. The September 1980 rate was 0.2 of a percentage point less than the September 1979 rate.



Nonfarm Employment

The nonagricultural wage and salary job count (which excludes agricultural workers, the self-employed, unpaid family workers and domestic workers in private households) declined 43,100 from August 1980 to 7,154,300 in September 1980, with all of the loss in the nonmanufacturing sector. The State's over-the-month job decrease exceeded the average August-September downturn over the last 3 years by approximately 12,000.

The nonmanufacturing job level fell 49,900 in September, largely as a result of reductions in government. The public sector posted a net loss of 54,000 as layoffs of temporary Census personnel and losses due to the termination of the CETA Summer Youth Program more than offset the return to jobs by state and local education employees for the fall semester. The services industry group registered a loss, primarily seasonal, of 8,400 over the month. Layoffs among hotels and other lodging places, and the amusements and recreational component dominated the downturn in services jobs. A major strike by musicians in the New York City area also contributed to the services job reduction. These musicians joined the actors and musicians who had gone on strike in August. Seasonal furloughs in the real estate, banking, and insurance components of the finance, insurance and real estate industry division were largely responsible for the August-September loss of 3,900 jobs. The construction industry, which has been severely impacted by the recession, failed to show improvement in September. The September employment loss of 2,200 exceeded the usual reduction of construction jobs for this time of year.

Seasonal activity caused job expansion in both the trade (+13,800) and transportation and public utilities (+4,800) industries. Hiring by retail trade establishments, particularly department stores, accounted for the trade advance, while the return to work of school bus drivers dominated increases in the transportation and public utilities industry.

The number of jobs in the manufacturing sector in September 1980 increased 6,800 from a month ago, with 3,500 of the upturn in the nondurable-goods segment. The largest soft-goods advance was posted by the apparel industry, up 2,700 because of seasonal hiring, notably in the women's outerwear category. Other significant job gains occurred in the printing and publishing (+1,000) and miscellaneous manufacturing (+700) industries. New orders for products in the commercial printing and bookbinding portions prompted the higher job levels in the printing and publishing industry. Most of the advance in miscellaneous manufacturing employment was the result of job additions to meet increased product demand and the return to work of striking candle workers. Among the soft-goods components that lost employment over the month, the largest job decreases occurred in the paper (-500) and chemical (-500) industries. Layoffs following the completion of contracts were the reason for the loss in paper and chemicals employment levels.

Durable-goods employment advanced 3,400 in September. This increase was smaller than the majority of August-September hard-goods gains in recent years. Below-normal hiring in the transportation equipment (+2,200), electrical machinery (+1,100), and fabricated metals (+600) industries, coupled with an unexpected job loss in the furniture industry (-300), was responsible for the less-than-average gain in durable-goods employment. All of the job gain in the transportation equipment industry occurred in the motor vehicle equipment segment, which was bolstering its staff to meet new orders and contracts. Stepped-up production accounted for the advances in hiring in the electrical machinery and fabricated metals industries. The job level in the primary metals industry (+600) was also up from a month ago. The job level in this industry would have been even higher except for a strike against a nonferrous metals plant.

Employment decreases in the furniture and instruments, photo and optical goods industries tempered the hard-goods job expansion. A partial temporary plant shutdown in the household furniture segment and end-of-contract job cutbacks in the metal partition and shelving portion accounted for the drop in furniture employment. The return to school of temporary summer help (students) in the photographic equipment industry and layoffs following the completion of contracts in the surgical and dental instruments category were responsible for most of the 1,700 decrease in the instruments, photo and optical goods industry.

On a year-to-year basis, nonagricultural wage and salary employment in September 1980 was 47,400 below the year-ago level, with 53,300 or all of the loss in the manufacturing sector.

INSURED EMPLOYMENT AND PAYROLLS

FOURTH QUARTER 1979

INSURED COVERAGE. Under the New York State Unemployment Insurance Law as a result of an amendment effective January 1960, an employer of individuals other than household workers becomes liable for the unemployment insurance tax if within a single calendar quarter he pays remuneration of $300 or more. As a result of an amendment effective January 1966, an employer who employs one or more household workers and pays them cash remuneration of $500 or more within a single calendar quarter becomes liable for the tax. In effect, employers of one or more workers become liable for the unemployment insurance tax on the first day of the calendar quarter in which remuneration is paid.

Most persons employed by nonprofit organization were covered by unemployment insurance beginning January 1, 1971 as a result of "stand-by" legislation originally enacted in 1965 which became operative because of the Federal Amendments of 1970.

A nonprofit organization becomes liable when it makes cash payments to its employees of $1,000 or more in a calendar quarter. Effective January 1, 1972, liability also begins if the nonprofit organization employs four or more persons on each of 20 days in at least 20 different weeks during the current or preceding calendar year.

Prior to January 1, 1978, the services of persons engaged in a teaching or other professional capacity at a nonprofit educational institution below the college level were excluded from covered employment. Beginning January 1, 1978, the services of these employees are covered by unemployment insurance.

Agricultural labor is also newly covered as of January 1, 1978. Exceptions exist for employers of fewer than 10 persons or those with a quarterly payroll of less than $20,000.

Certain groups continue to be excluded from coverage. Those excluded are interstate railroads, self-employed, services of an individual employer's wife, husband or minor child and certain other small groups of workers.

Data for employees of the Federal Government, New York State and local government units covered for unemployment compensation purposes, are excluded from this series. Employment and payrolls of persons in private industry only are reported in this series.

Insured employment data are not intended to reflect a continuous series over the years. The data only represent experience within a specific calendar period. Significant factors which affect comparability are changes in the coverage provisions of the Law, such as those mentioned above, as well as employment reclassification changes. The reclassification changes are occasioned by industrial and/or geographic classification code changes. They may be economic or noneconomic. Economic code changes are made in the quarter when the product or business activity of an establishment has changes (industry code) or whenever an employer moves from one location to another in New York State (geographic code). Noneconomic code changes are made effective in the first quarter of each year. Noneconomic code changes arise from (1) structural changes in the Standard Industrial Classification Manual, and (2) newly disclosed information affecting either the industrial or geographic location.

REPORTING UNIT. An establishment, or reporting unit, is usually a single place of business, engaged in a single business activity, and operated by a single employer. Business firms operating more than one establishment, in different counties, or different activities in one or more counties, usually submit a separate report for each unit unless the payrolls are not maintained separately. However, if an employer operates in a single county two or more establishments that are engaged in the same business activity, the establishments usually are reported together as a single unit. If two or more units of a single employer are in a single physical location but maintain separate payroll records and engage in distinct or separate business activities, then each unit is treated as a separate reporting unit.

EMPLOYMENT. The tables in this report include all private employment covered under the New York State Unemployment Insurance Law for each of the three months in the quarter. The employment count represents the number of full-time and part-time employees earning wages or salaries for the payroll period including the 12th of the month. Included are persons on paid vacations and on paid sick leave. Workers temporarily earning no wages because of labor-management disputes, layoffs or other reasons are not reported as employed. Persons on the payroll of more than one establishment during the same reference week are reported more than once.

TOTAL QUARTERLY PAYROLLS. Total quarterly payrolls cover all wages and salaries paid to individuals in insured employment.

INDUSTRY CLASSIFICATION. Data are classified in accordance with the 1972 edition of the Standard Industrial Classification Manual prepared by the office of Statistical Standards, Bureau of the Budget. This edition replaces the 1967 edition. Structural changes as a result of revisions in the Manual are incorporated in data beginning with the first quarter of 1975.

When a 2-digit manufacturing industry has less than 100 employees or less than 4 reporting units, figures are combined in "all other durable goods" or "all other nondurable goods."

The category "all other" includes agriculture, forestry and fisheries, mining and unclassified establishments.

COUNTY CLASSIFICATION. County classification of employment and payroll data is based on the physical location of the establishment. The category "statewide" which appears at the end of the county listing covers all reporting units not classified by county. Included in this category are: reporting units without a fixed location within the State, those with a significant number of employees in more than one county for which separate data are not available, and those for which county location has not as yet been determined.

LABOR AREA. A major labor area is a defined geographical section of New York State in which there is a major concentration of employment and economic activity. For purposes of labor statistics, a labor area includes a whole county or counties even though the economic activity may be centered in a segment of the whole. The composition of the major labor areas (which differ from the administrative jurisdictions of the unemployment insurance and employment service program) is given below.

---Albany-Schenectady-Troy*. Albany, Montgomery, Rensselaer, Saratoga and Schenectady counties.
--- Binghamton. Broome and Tioga counties.
---Buffalo*. Erie and Niagara counties.
---Nassau-Suffolk*. Nassau and Suffolk counties.
--- New York City. Bronx, Kings, New York, Queens and Richmond counties.
---Rochester*. Livingston, Monroe, Ontario, Orleans and Wayne counties.
---Syracuse*. Madison, Onondaga and Oswego counties.
---Utica-Rome*. Herkimer and Oneida counties.
--- Westchester. Westchester county.

* Geographical boundaries of labor area are identical with boundaries of the Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA) established by the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

SOURCE OF DATA. Reports submitted quarterly by employers subject to the New York State Unemployment Insurance Law.

Employed and Unemployed. Employment and unemployment estimates prepared by the New York State Department of Labor are developed under a cooperative Federal-State program administered by the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) of the U.S. Department of Labor. The Current Population Survey (CPS)—the official survey instrument for measuring labor force attachment in the United States--is a monthly survey of about 56,000 households conducted throughout the nation by trained interviewers. Employment and unemployment data for New York State and New York City are based directly on responses of households within the State and City which are represented in the CPS sample.

The size of the CPS sample is not sufficient to provide reliable estimates for labor areas in the "Balance of State" (State less New York City). In these areas, a series of factors are applied to administrative statistics from State unemployment insurance (UI) operations and to payroll statistics from establishment surveys to provide data on resident employment and unemployment. Data for these labor areas are adjusted so they add to "Balance of State" totals.

These revised procedures, which were put into effect in January 1978, are designed to make the estimates more comparable from state to state and to incorporate more current data in the estimating process.

Employed. Employed persons are all those who during the week including the 12th of the month, (a) did any work at all as paid employees or in their own business or profession, or farm or who worked 15 hours or more as unpaid workers in an enterprise operated by a member of the family, or (b) did not work but who had jobs or businesses from which they were temporarily absent because of illness, bad weather, vacation, labor-management dispute, or personal reasons, whether or not they were paid by their employers for the time off, and whether or not they were seeking other jobs. Each employed person is counted only once.

Unemployed. Unemployed persons are all those persons who did not work during the week including the 12th of the month, who made specific efforts to find a job within the past 4 weeks, and who were available for work during the week except for temporary illness. Also included as unemployed are those who did not work at all, were available for work, and (a) were waiting to be called back to a job from which they had been laid off, or (b) were waiting to report to a new wage or salary job within 30 days.

Rate of Unemployment. The rate is the total number of unemployed persons expressed as a percentage of the employed and unemployed, i.e., as a percentage of the civilian labor force.

NONAGRICULTURAL EMPLOYMENT, HOURS AND EARNINGS

Benchmark. Represents a comprehensive count of employment for the various nonagricultural industries as of the first quarter of each year. The primary source of benchmark information is employment data received from establishments covered by the New York State Unemployment Insurance Law. Benchmark data for the remainder are obtained from the records of other private and governmental agencies. Employment estimates for the latest benchmark year and for the previous year are normally subject to revision annually. Current estimates are based on the March 1979 benchmark level for each industry.

Hours and earnings data are analyzed each year to maintain continuity of series.

Earnings, Average. For manufacturing, the averages cover production and related workers only. For the remaining industries, averages cover all nonsupervisory employees and working supervisors unless otherwise specified.

--Earnings, Average Hourly. Represents payrolls divided by total number of hours worked or paid for (including paid holiday, vacation, and sick leave hours) during period reported. Total payroll includes both straight-time and premium pay. The averages are influenced by the amount of premium pay, as well as by changes in composition of labor force, changes in wage rates, upgrading of employees, etc., and consequently should not be interpreted as wage rates.

--Earnings, Average Weekly. Derived by multiplying average weekly hours by average hourly earnings. Includes premium wages for overtime and nightshift work and payments made on piecework or incentive basis. The averages are affected by changes in length of workweek, part-time work, stoppages for varying causes, labor turnover, and absenteeism.

Employment, Nonfarm. Estimates include all nonfarm wage and salary workers who received pay for any part of the pay period including the 12th of the month. Persons on paid sick leave, paid holiday or paid vacation are included, but those on leave without pay for the entire payroll period are excluded. Persons on the payroll of more than one establishment during the period are counted each time reported. Self-employed persons, unpaid family workers, and domestics are excluded.

Historical Continuity. Historical continuity of statistics of average hours and earnings of manufacturing production workers has been interrupted for a number of industry groups because of changes in the composition of reporting samples or changes in the relative weight on individual industries in group totals. The starting month of a revised series is identified in a footnote in the issue in which the revision is introduced. Some series have been discontinued pending improvement in the reporting samples.

Hours, Average Weekly. See Earnings, Average for description of workers covered. The averages represent total number of hours worked (including overtime) or paid for (including paid holiday, vacation, and sick leave hours) during week divided by number of employees. The averages are affected by amount of labor turnover during week, changes in amount of overtime hours, and by changes in ratio of full-time or part-time employment.

--Hours, Average Weekly Overtime. Represents total number of overtime hours worked by production workers during the week divided by total number of production workers. Overtime hours include those for which premiums were paid because those hours were in excess of the number of hours of either the straight-time workday or the workweek. Hours worked on Saturday, Sunday or holidays are included only if premium wage rates were paid.

Nonagricultural Establishments. All employing units except commercial and noncommercial farms, international government and private households.

Production Workers. Includes working foremen and all nonsupervisory workers (including leadmen and trainees) engaged in fabricating, processing, assembling, inspection, receiving, storage, handling, packing, warehousing, shipping, maintenance, repair, janitorial and watchman services, product development, auxiliary production for plant's own use (e.g., power plant), and in record-keeping and other services closely associated with the above production operations. Excludes supervisory employees (above the working foremen level) and their clerical staffs, routemen, salesmen and force-account construction workers.

Reference Week of the Month. Employment, payroll, hours, and earnings data are based on reports from firms covering a pay period, usually the week, including the 12th of the month.

LABOR-TURNOVER RATES

Refers to the gross movement of wage and salary workers into and out of employment status with respect to individual firms during a calendar month. This movement is subdivided into various types, and each type is expressed as a rate per 100 employees on the payroll. Rates are shown for the types of turnover defined below.

--Accessions, Total. All permanent and temporary additions to the employment roll, whether of new or former employees, or of persons transferred in from another establishment of the same company.

----New hires. Permanent and temporary additions to the employment roll of persons who have not been specifically recalled by the employer or transferred in from another establishment of the same company.

----Recalls. INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION

Data are classified in accordance with the 1972 edition of the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual prepared by the Office of Statistical Standards, Bureau of the Budget, Executive Office of the President. Coverage of the classification Services and miscellaneous varies geographically. For New York State and New York City this classification includes: the services industry division; forestry, fisheries and selected services relating to agriculture; and nonclassifiable establishments. For other areas this classification also includes the mining industry division. For space requirements on the statistical tables, the formal SIC title for some of the industry groups have been replaced by the short SIC title as contained in Appendix B of the 1972 edition of the SIC Manual - List of short SIC Titles. SIC titles used for groupings of two or more two-digit manufacturing industries reflect, to the extent possible, the respective components.

MONTH IN REVIEW

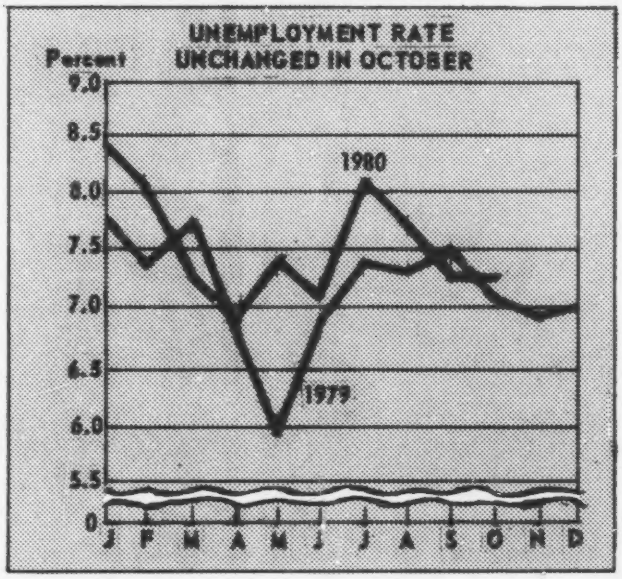
October 1980

Civilian Labor Force

The number of New York State residents with jobs in October 1980 was 7,344,000, a gain of 77,000 from a month ago, but a loss of 28,000 from a year ago.

Total unemployment rose 8,000 between September and October 1980 to 577,000. Compared with a year ago, the October 1980 jobless level was higher by 17,000.

The State's jobless rate remained unchanged between September and October 1980 at 7.3 percent because the increase in employment offset the rise in unemployment. In October 1979, the unemployment rate was 7.1 percent.



Nonfarm Employment

The nonagricultural wage and salary job count (which excludes agricultural workers, the self-employed, unpaid family workers and domestic workers in private households) increased 35,800 from September 1980 to 7,190,100 in October 1980 with over 90 percent of the upturn in the nonmanufacturing sector.

The nonmanufacturing job level in October rose 32,900 from a month ago with most of the expansion centered in the public sector (+25,500). Seasonal hiring in the state and local education segments accounted for the advance in government employment. A substantial number of jobs were also added to the services job count (+9,900) as the majority of services industry components rose seasonally. The largest gain in services occurred in the private education segment. Seasonal influences were also responsible for the advance in trade jobs (+1,800), particularly in the department store category. Among the nonmanufacturing divisions that lost employment over the month, a greater-than-expected decrease occurred in construction jobs (-3,300). Retrenchment was most pronounced in the special trades category. The transportation and public utilities industry group experienced seasonal cutbacks totaling 600. Jobs in the finance, insurance and real estate division (-300) fell minimally this year in contrast to more substantial September-October losses in prior years. Increased activity in the banking industry largely offset the usual decline in this industry division.

The number of jobs in the manufacturing sector rose 2,900 in October because of a 3,800 gain in the durable-goods segment. The largest October increase in recent years in transportation equipment jobs (+2,300) dominated the hard-goods advance. Nearly all of the resurgence in transportation equipment employment occurred in the motor vehicle equipment category because of hiring to meet demand for 1981 models. Other notable job gains were posted by the fabricated metals (+800) and primary metals (+700) industries. Increased demand for automobile-related products was responsible for additional hiring in the fabricated metals industry. The settlement of a labor-management dispute in the nonferrous metals industry and hiring to meet stepped-up production in the blast furnace segment accounted for the rise in primary metals employment. Among the hard-goods components that lost jobs over the month, the largest decrease occurred in the stone, clay, glass and concrete industry (-300), down because of a seasonal decline in the demand for cement and concrete products.

The nondurable-goods job level suffered a 1,000 loss in employment in October 1980 as cutbacks in the food (-2,000), chemical (-1,100) and petroleum (-100) industries more than offset increases elsewhere in the soft-goods segment. Seasonal layoffs in the canning industry accounted for most of the decline in food employment. Chemical jobs fell because of a large strike in the western portion of the State and a firm moving out of State. Among the soft-goods components that showed higher job levels in October, the largest increases occurred in the apparel (+700), textile (+400) and leather (+400) industries. Seasonal influences prompted the job additions in apparel, while hiring of extra help to meet new orders was the reason for the increase in both textile and leather employment.

On a year-to-year basis, nonfarm employment in October 1980 was 53,300 below the job count 12-months ago. The bulk of the over-the-year job deficit was in the manufacturing sector, which was down 53,500 from the October 1979 level.

EMPLOYED AND UNEMPLOYED

Employed and Unemployed. Employment and unemployment estimates prepared by the New York State Department of Labor are developed under a cooperative Federal-State program administered by the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) of the U.S. Department of Labor. The Current Population Survey (CPS)--the official survey instrument for measuring labor force attachment in the United States--is a monthly survey of about 56,000 households conducted throughout the nation by trained interviewers. Employment and unemployment data for New York State and New York City are based directly on responses of households within the State and City which are represented in the CPS sample.

The size of the CPS sample is not sufficient to provide reliable estimates for labor areas in the "Balance of State" (State less New York City). In these areas, a series of factors are applied to administrative statistics from State unemployment insurance (UI) operations and to payroll statistics from establishment surveys to provide data on resident employment and unemployment. Data for these labor areas are adjusted so they add to "Balance of State" totals.

These revised procedures, which were put into effect in January 1978, are designed to make the estimates more comparable from state to state and to incorporate more current data in the estimating process.

Employed. Employed persons are all those who during the week including the 12th of the month, (a) did any work at all as paid employees or in their own business or profession, or farm or who worked 15 hours or more as unpaid workers in an enterprise operated by a member of the family, or (b) did not work but who had jobs or businesses from which they were temporarily absent because of illness, bad weather, vacation, labor-management dispute, or personal reasons, whether or not they were paid by their employers for the time off, and whether or not they were seeking other jobs. Each employed person is counted only once.

Unemployed. Unemployed persons are all those persons who did not work during the week including the 12th of the month, who made specific efforts to find a job within the past 4 weeks, and who were available for work during the week except for temporary illness. Also included as unemployed are those who did not work at all, were available for work, and (a) were waiting to be called back to a job from which they had been laid off, or (b) were waiting to report to a new wage or salary job within 30 days.

Rate of Unemployment. The rate is the total number of unemployed persons expressed as a percentage of the employed and unemployed, i.e., as a percentage of the civilian labor force.

NONAGRICULTURAL EMPLOYMENT, HOURS AND EARNINGS

Benchmark. Represents a comprehensive count of employment for the various nonagricultural industries as of the first quarter of each year. The primary source of benchmark information is employment data received from establishments covered by the New York State Unemployment Insurance Law. Benchmark data for the remainder are obtained from the records of other private and governmental agencies. Employment estimates for the latest benchmark year and for the previous year are normally subject to revision annually. Current estimates are based on the March 1979 benchmark level for each industry.

Hours and earnings data are analyzed each year to maintain continuity of series.

Earnings, Average. For manufacturing, the averages cover production and related workers only. For the remaining industries, averages cover all nonsupervisory employees and working supervisors unless otherwise specified.

--Earnings, Average Hourly. Represents payrolls divided by total number of hours worked or paid for (including paid holiday, vacation, and sick leave hours) during period reported. Total payroll includes both straight-time and premium pay. The averages are influenced by the amount of premium pay, as well as by changes in composition of labor force, changes in wage rates, upgrading of employees, etc., and consequently should not be interpreted as wage rates.

--Earnings, Average Weekly. Derived by multiplying average weekly hours by average hourly earnings. Includes premium wages for overtime and nightshift work and payments made on piecework or incentive basis. The averages are affected by changes in length of workweek, part-time work, stoppages for varying causes, labor turnover, and absenteeism.

Employment, Nonfarm. Estimates include all nonfarm wage and salary workers who received pay for any part of the pay period including the 12th of the month. Persons on paid sick leave, paid holiday or paid vacation are included, but those on leave without pay for the entire payroll period are excluded. Persons on the payroll of more than one establishment during the period are counted each time reported. Self-employed persons, unpaid family workers, and domestics are excluded.

Historical Continuity. Historical continuity of statistics of average hours and earnings of manufacturing production workers has been interrupted for a number of industry groups because of changes in the composition of reporting samples or changes in the relative weight on individual industries in group totals. The starting month of a revised series is identified in a footnote in the issue in which the revision is introduced. Some series have been discontinued pending improvement in the reporting samples.

Hours, Average Weekly. See Earnings, Average for description of workers covered. The averages represent total number of hours worked (including overtime) or paid for (including paid holiday, vacation, and sick leave hours) during week divided by number of employees. The averages are affected by amount of labor turnover during week, changes in amount of overtime hours, and by changes in ratio of full-time or part-time employment.

--Hours, Average Weekly Overtime. Represents total number of overtime hours worked by production workers during the week divided by total number of production workers. Overtime hours include those for which premiums were paid because those hours were in excess of the number of hours of either the straight-time workday or the workweek. Hours worked on Saturday, Sunday or holidays are included only if premium wage rates were paid.

Nonagricultural Establishments. All employing units except commercial and noncommercial farms, international government and private households.

Production Workers. Includes working foremen and all nonsupervisory workers (including leadmen and trainees) engaged in fabricating, processing, assembling, inspection, receiving, storage, handling, packing, warehousing, shipping, maintenance, repair, janitorial and watchman services, product development, auxiliary production for plant's own use (e.g., power plant) and in record-keeping and other services closely associated with the above production operations. Excludes supervisory employees (above the working foremen level) and their clerical staffs, routemen, salesmen and force-account construction workers.

Reference Week of the Month. Employment, payroll, hours, and earnings data are based on reports from firms covering a pay period, usually the week, including the 12th of the month.

LABOR-TURNOVER RATES

Refers to the gross movement of wage and salary workers into and out of employment status with respect to individual firms during a calendar month. This movement is subdivided into various types, and each type is expressed as a rate per 100 employees on the payroll. Rates are shown for the types of turnover defined below.

--Accessions, Total. All permanent and temporary additions to the employment roll, whether of new or former employees, or of persons transferred in from another establishment of the same company.

----New hires. Permanent and temporary additions to the employment roll of persons who have not been specifically recalled by the employer or transferred in from another establishment of the same company.

----Recalls. Permanent or temporary additions to the employment roll of persons specifically recalled to a job in the same establishment of the company following a period of layoff lasting more than 7 consecutive days. Employees recalled from a layoff in a different establishment of the company are to be classified as transfers.

--Separations, Total. Terminations of employment that resulted from: quits, discharges, layoffs, transfers out to another establishment of the same company, military duty and miscellaneous causes.

----Quits. Terminations of employment initiated by the employee for any reason except to retire, to transfer to another establishment of the same firm or to serve in the Armed Forces.

----Layoffs. Suspensions from pay status (which last or are expected to last more than 7 consecutive calendar days) initiated by management without prejudice to the worker. They result from such reasons as lack of orders, model changeovers, termination of seasonal or temporary employment, inventory-taking or introduction of labor-saving devices.

----Other, including transfers. Includes transfers of employees to another establishment of the same company, discharges, and terminations of employment for retirement, death, permanent disability, failure to meet physical standards, or for military duty lasting or expected to last 30 calendar days.

INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION

Data are classified in accordance with the 1972 edition of the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual prepared by the Office of Statistical Standards, Bureau of the Budget, Executive Office of the President. Coverage of the classification Services and miscellaneous varies geographically. For New York State and New York City this classification includes: the services industry division; forestry, fisheries and selected services relating to agriculture; and nonclassifiable establishments. For other areas this classification also includes the mining industry division. For space requirements on the statistical tables, the formal SIC title for some of the industry groups have been replaced by the short SIC title as contained in Appendix B of the 1972 edition of the SIC Manual - List of short SIC Titles. SIC titles used for groupings of two or more two-digit manufacturing industries reflect, to the extent possible, the respective components.

MAJOR LABOR AREA

A major labor area is a defined geographical section of New York State in which there is a major concentration of employment and economic activity. For purposes of labor statistics, a labor area includes a whole county or counties even though the economic activity may be centered in a segment of the whole.
